Name, Image, Likeness; Will IU Student-Athletes Cash In?

Thursday, January 14
11:30 a.m. via Zoom

The National Collegiate Athletic Association is expected to approve rules in 2021 to allow student-athletes to earn revenues from their names, images, and likenesses (NIL). What will this mean to IU's student-athletes? What will the guidelines be and how will they be enforced?

Galen Clavio is a member of IU's NIL task force. He's Director of Undergraduate Studies at the Media School and Director of the National Sports Journalism Center at IU. He also serves as the head of the Sports Media program. Dr. Clavio will discuss proposed NCAA rules in regard to NIL and answer questions from our members.

A native of Indiana, Clavio graduated from Indiana University as an undergraduate in 2001 and received his Ph.D. from IU in 2008.

Register by noon on Tuesday, January 12 by emailing uclub@indiana.edu. Only members who register by the reservation deadline will receive a Zoom link for this presentation.
